

Big Digger has a problem!

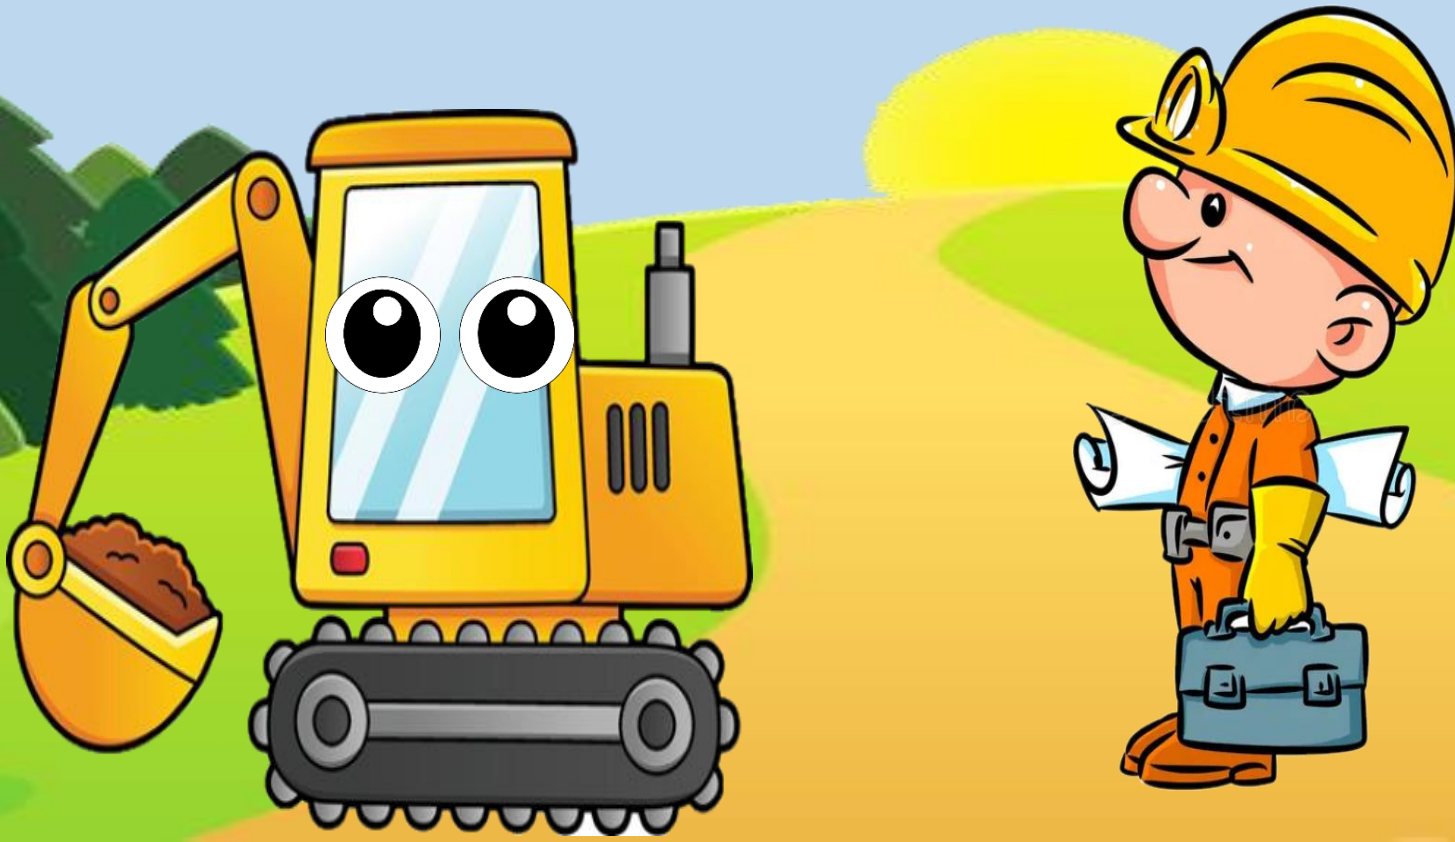

This is Big Digger!

Hello!

...said Big Digger!

Big Digger lives on the yard with Foreman Jim.
They go to work everyday and then come home to sleep.
They like to play at the weekend.

Little Digger has also come to work on the yard.

Big Digger was confused. 'This is my yard' thought big Digger.

Foreman Jim was busy with Little Digger. This made Big Digger feel left out. He felt angry and sad.

Big Digger started to break things. And he would get angry with Little Digger.

Foreman Jim had an idea to help Big Digger with his big feelings.

Foreman Jim told Big Digger and Little Digger about a new project.

This project was to build a wall together.

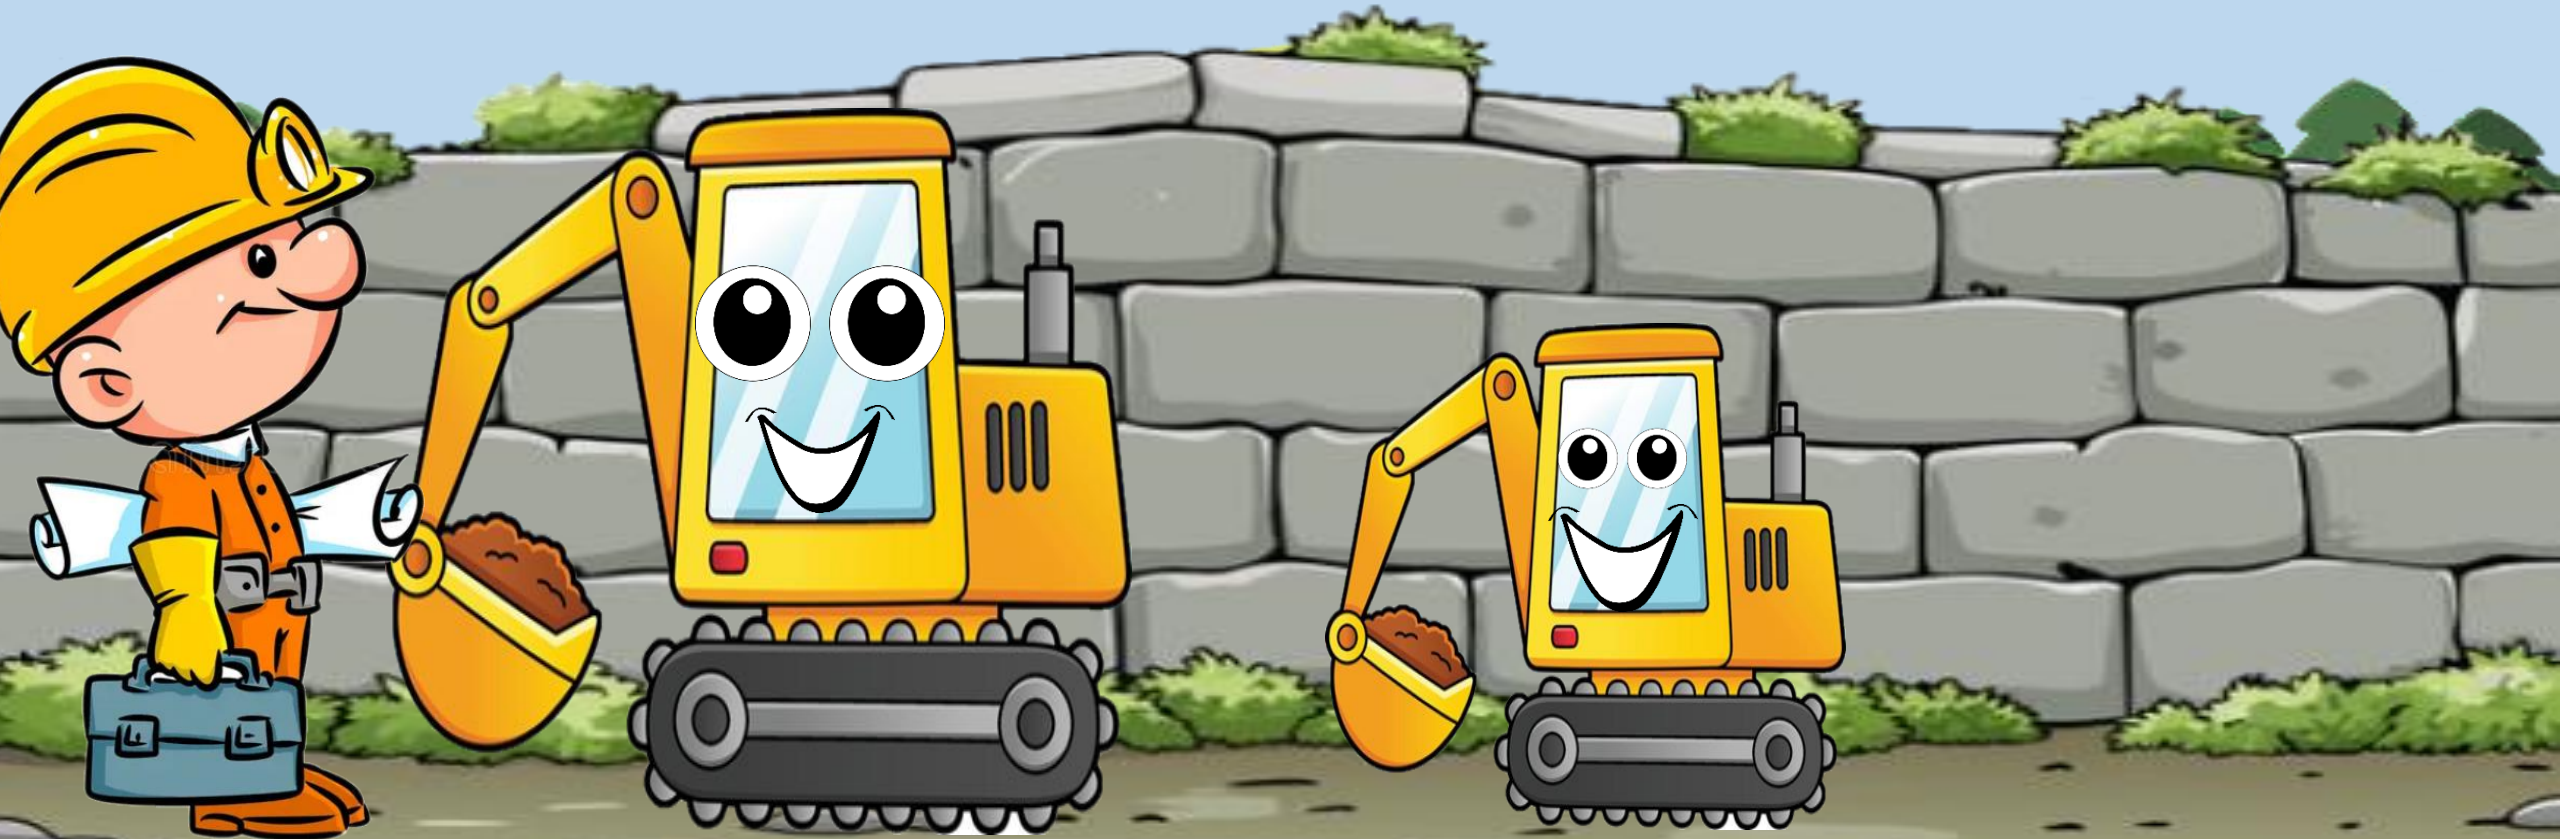

The next day. They had been working for a little while when Foreman Jim went to the office to answer a phone call.

Big Digger and Little Digger stayed behind and carried on building the wall together. Big Digger began to realise that he was enjoying working with Little Digger... and they make a good team.

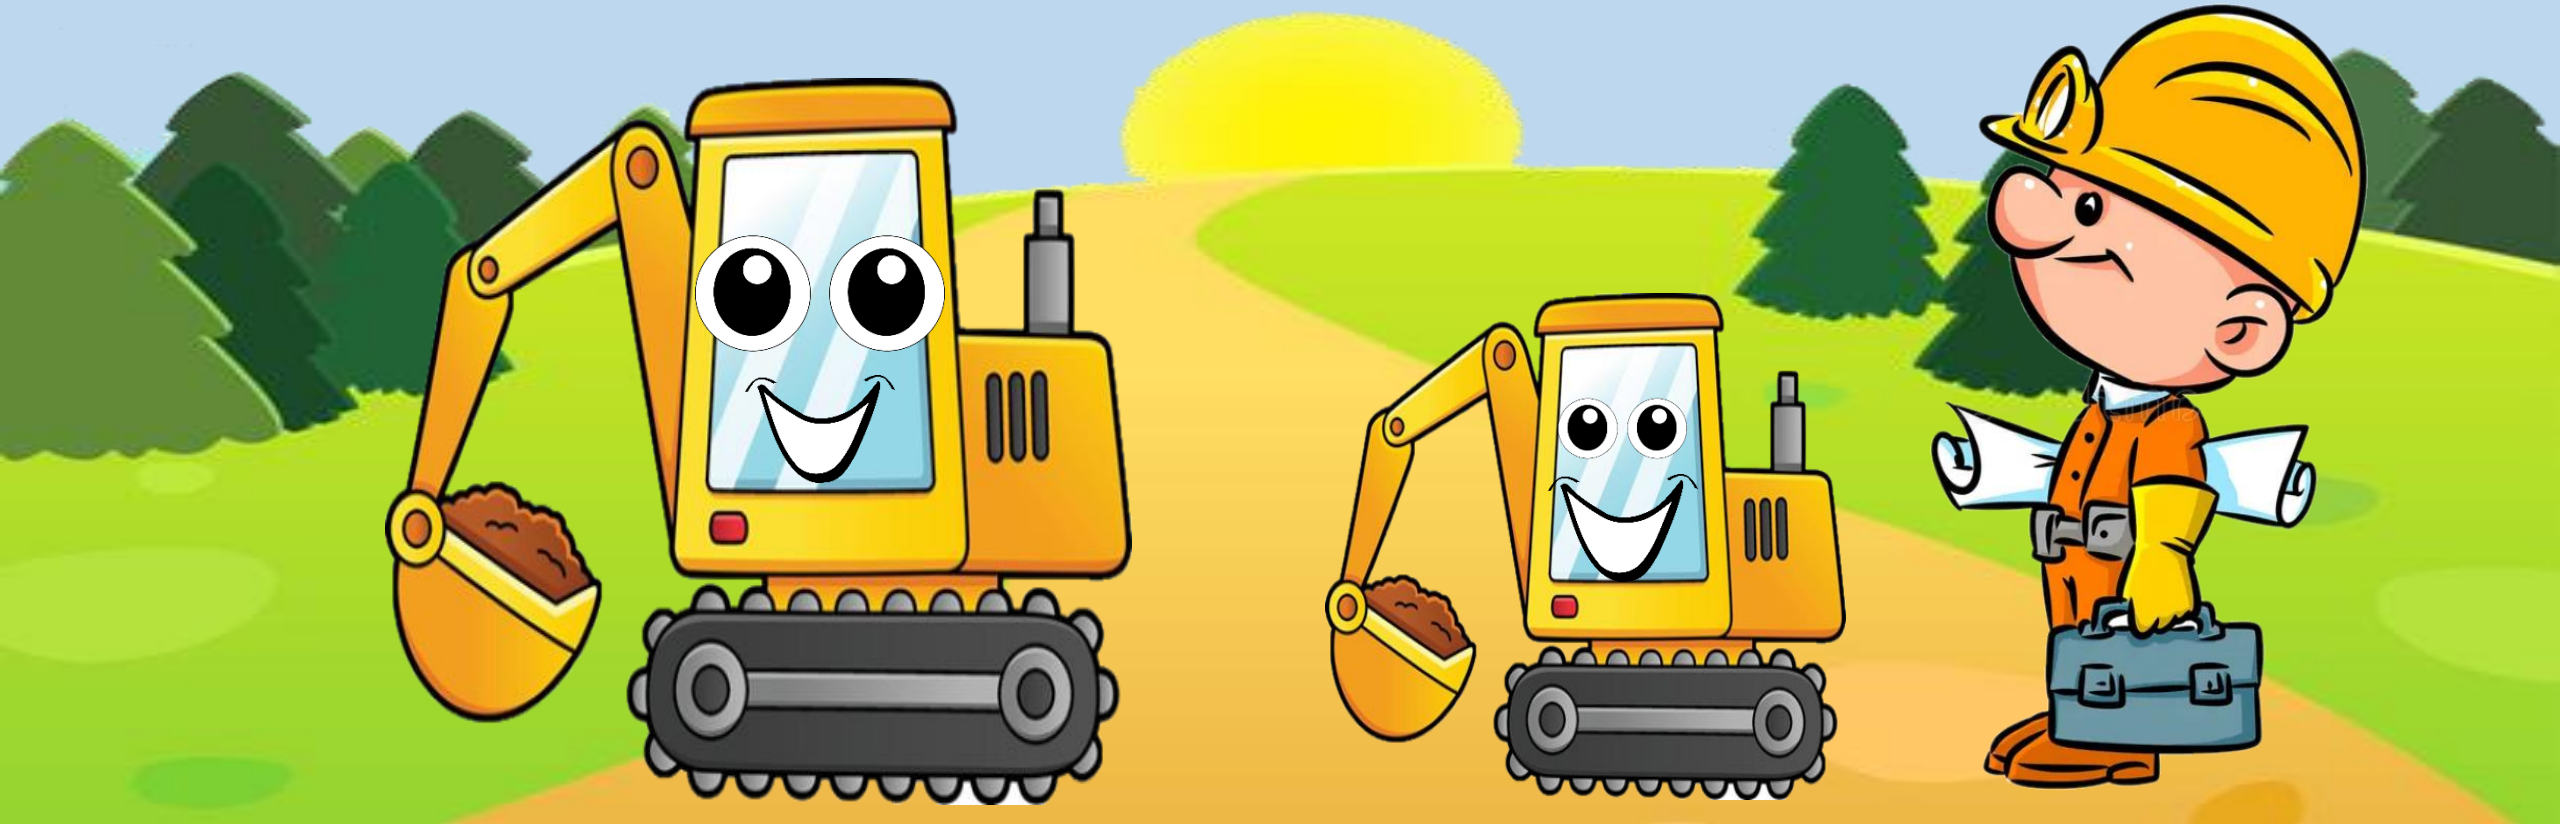

Foreman Jim was amazed when he saw the smiles and then the wall that Big Digger and Little Digger had made.

‘Wowzers! Well done Big Digger! And well done Little Digger!’
Big Digger looked so happy.

Big Digger and Little Digger live on the yard with Foreman Jim.
They go to work together everyday and then come home to sleep.

And they like to play together on the weekend.
Everyone is happy on the yard.

The End
